The Object of The Game
One: Have fun! Two: Amass points by answering Trivia questions correctly. Each question is worth up to 500 points, determined by the number of teams getting the correct answer. The team with the highest point total at the end of the contest wins. Questions will deal with any facts which the Trivia Oz determines to be Trivia. All rules are subject to change at the discretion of the Oz.

How To Play
Trivia 54: Very Superstitious begins at 6pm Friday, April 12th, and runs 54 hours through midnight Sunday, April 14th. In most hours, the announcers on WWSP-90FM will ask eight questions and each question will run for two songs. Earn points by calling in the correct answer to the current question before time runs out.

- The last question will run the length of one song.
- Questions in the Midnight and 6 PM hours on Saturday and Sunday will run the length of one song at least four minutes long.
- Singing questions will run the length of three songs.

Once you’ve decided upon an answer, start calling in early to improve your chances of getting in before time runs out. Expect busy signals on easier questions. Call in your answer using only the Trivia phone number found at the front of your copy of the New Trivia Times. Please dial carefully, especially at night. When your call connects:

1. The operator will ask for your ID number.
2. Provide your team ID number (found in the front of this book).
3. The operator will repeat your ID number, then ask for your answer.
4. If the operator didn’t repeat your ID number correctly, it is your responsibility to repeat and confirm it before continuing with your answer.
5. Provide your answer. Please speak clearly. It is your responsibility to give the operator the opportunity to ask you to repeat your answer if necessary. They will not provide clues or say whether you are right or wrong.
6. Wait for your operator to thank you, then hang up immediately.

Each team may call in one answer per question. Multiple answers may result in no points for your team for that question. Multiple answers on multiple questions may result in your team’s disqualification.

Point values for questions will be revealed after Trivia Focus, with a one-hour delay. For example, the values for questions in Hour 1 will be read at the beginning of Hour 3. Your team may also earn points through Music Snippet questions, Trivia Stone stamps, and Running Questions. Read through your New Trivia Times for more information.

Disputing Answers
Listen carefully to answer the question as it is asked. Questions about public personas require their stage or performing names, unless otherwise specified. Cary Grant is a stage name. Archibald Leach was his birth name.

A complaint line will be open during most of the contest. We will announce when it opens and closes. The complaint line is for the purpose of discussing the validity and accuracy of a question or answer. You must have legitimate sources to contest our sources. The Oz shall determine if your complaint and/or source is worthy of taking action. If you have a problem with your score and how it compares with ours, remember, our total is correct.

Fair play
The rules of Trivia promote the mutual enjoyment of all participants. We will strive to maintain the integrity and reputation of the contest, and may disqualify any team that infringes on the rights of other players to participate in an honest contest.

Cheating will not be tolerated. This includes collaborating with other teams, disturbing items related to the Trivia Stone or Running Questions, making deceitful edits on public websites, or re-posting New Trivia Times photos on public websites or apps. There is no need to repost New Trivia Times pictures as they are available on the Trivia website. A password-protected space only for members of your team is OK.

By participating, you agree to follow these rules and proper sportsmanship. Remember also to return all borrowed books to libraries as soon as possible after the contest.

There will be two Running Questions during the contest. Each is an opportunity to get outside and get your blood pumping while you find the answers to questions about the neighborhood. Running questions will challenge your physical endurance, cleverness, and trivial knowledge.

Teams may send any number of representatives to each. Make sure they have your team ID number, a pencil, some type of measuring device, and perhaps jogging clothes. They can get there any way they want, following all traffic laws to [and from] the starting locations, but finding the answers to the questions themselves must be done on foot. To repeat: No wheels may be used during the questions. Exception: wheelchairs and strollers are allowed. Using other wheels will result in no points for your team for that question. There will always be ample time to answer the questions, as we do them on foot in an old-guy time of 45 minutes. One more thing: In years past, you might have brought a ladder along to measure something up high, like the size of an everything bagel. To prevent anyone from having to walk under a ladder, we’re letting you know now that you won’t need one this year!

The first Running Question begins 7am Saturday morning. Team representatives should meet in the big parking lot on the corner of Main Street and Strongs in downtown Stevens Point. If you get there early, save us a couple of parking spots in the corner by the United Way display.

The second Running Question begins at 7am Sunday morning. Team representatives should meet near the covered walkway West of the Armed Forces Career Center in Plover. If you get there early, save us a couple of parking spots near the middle benches.

Please use caution traveling to and from the running question locations due to the high level of foot traffic.

See you there...

The Trivia Stone is a test of trivia teams’ accuracy, endurance, cleverness, and trivial knowledge. Throughout the contest, we will read clues to the Stone on the air. They will not be repeated or elaborated upon; they are what they are. You may record the clues to ensure accuracy. Follow those clues on your journey to get up to three stamps that will earn your team trivia points. One stamp is worth 50 points. Two will earn 150 points. Getting all three stamps will get you 300 points.

While following the clues, remember this: at no time will you be instructed to violate any laws or ordinances. If you find yourself breaking the law, you made a mistake. If you get to a roundabout, you made a mistake. Under no circumstances are you to use any type of artificial light source at night except for your headlights. Do not use any other beams—you may be arrested for disturbing the peace.

To keep traffic manageable, there are two Stone Groups. Look at your registration sticker to determine which Stone Group clues—Group A or Group B—you must follow to receive points. Be sure to follow the correct clues.

- Stone Group A: Your starting point is in front of the 90 FM studios on Reserve Street in Stevens Point, facing South.
- Stone Group B: Your starting point is in front of the 90 FM studios on Reserve Street in Stevens Point, facing North.

The Stone Clue schedule is posted on 90fmtrivia.org. Be ready for stamp pickup times as follows:

- Stone Group A: 3:15am Sat., 4:15am Sun., and 4:15pm Sun.
- Stone Group B: 4:15am Sat., 5:15am Sun., and 5:15pm Sun.

You will have 45 minutes to get each Trivia Stone stamp. Present the inside front cover of the New Trivia Times with your ID number sticker in it to get your Trivia Stone stamps. No stamps will be given without that stickered New Trivia Times. Stamps are coded by Stone Group. If you get a stamp from the wrong group, you will receive no points.

Present your stamped copy of the New Trivia Times in person at the 90 FM studios 6:30–7:30 PM Sunday to get your points. Do not drop it off early or bring it in late.

Good luck! Remember to watch out for black cats crossing your path, and drive safely. In Stevens Point, RoboCop is always watching!

TRIVIA PHILOSOPHY

This year’s eclipse-enhanced Registration Monday will go down in the books as one for the ages—just not the Dark Ages.

We're beyond that kind of thing, I hope. Still, even with just a dimming of the sun during a partial eclipse, it's easy to get a queasy feeling when the birds go quiet. It almost makes you do something to make normal come back.

And that's what superstition leads to: doing [or not] something because you think it will cause something to happen [or not]. We've pretty much figured out most of the big superstitions are a bunch of hooey. It's a given that throwing someone into a volcano won't save your town, your town's crops, or your rule over your town. We mostly understand comets, eclipses, droughts, and earthquakes, so when they happen we deal with any consequences, mostly without the modern day equivalent of rainmakers and snake-oil salesmen who duck out of town before we realize they just took our money.

Some superstitions help people to do the right thing. They help keep people from knocking over ladders and breaking mirrors. Lighting three cigarettes on one match gives an enemy sniper enough time to get the third soldier, so tell your troops that THREE ON A MATCH IS BAD LUCK. TEN, TWENTY, THIRTY, FORTY, FIFTY OR MORE losses and you've got a trend, not a superstition.

Of course, a lot of superstitions are harmless fun. Having a lucky number, wearing lucky socks, saying “break a leg” instead of good luck backstage, blowing on your dice, and throwing salt over your shoulder, even making note of a ladybug landing on your shoe right before you score...none of those things will hurt anybody else if you believe they have power, so go ahead and have fun with them.

Just change those lucky socks now and then.

And so, Trivia 54: Very Superstitious is a celebration of superstitions in all the fun bits of pop culture that entertain us and inspire the questions we enjoy so much.

There's really only one way to wrap this up: Good luck...and Let's play Trivia, Fast Eddie.

Hello Trivia Players!
Firstly, I’d like to thank you for your continued support of 90FM and this contest. It takes a village to keep an institution like this running for as long as it has, and we would not be able to do it without you!

We have been enjoying the time leading up to Trivia, producing great events such as 80s weekend, Radiothon, and 24 hours of Fleetwood Mac. I am happy to report that this year’s Radiothon Auction raised over $6,000! Thank you to those who placed bids and donated auction items this year.

Beyond that, the executive staff and volunteers have been working hard to bring you Trivia 54: Very Superstitious. I cannot thank the staff of 90fm enough for all of the effort they have put in to bring Trivia to Stevens Point for its 54th year. It has been a joy to work with fellow students to put on my last (and hopefully best) contest as a student. With that, get your lucky socks ready because everything’s waiting for you!

Let’s play Trivia, fast Eddie.
